

SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY

SAFETY AND SECURITY INFORMATION

2009

General Information

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Crime Statistics Act require all colleges and universities in the United States to report their crime statistics and their campus security policies and reporting procedures to the United States Department of Education and the campus community annually by October 1. These statistics are for the most recent three-year period and can be found online at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/PublicSafety.asp. All students, faculty, staff and prospective students receive a letter directing them to the University website for crime and safety information. A copy of this report may be obtained at the Department of Public Safety (DPS), located at the Degenstein Campus Center, or by calling the assistant vice president for student life and director of public safety at (570) 372-4136.

Susquehanna University is located in Selinsgrove, a rural community of approximately 5,400 residents. Susquehanna's undergraduate enrollment includes 2,204 full-time degree students and approximately 13 part-time degree candidates. A total of 1,701 students live on campus in university owned residence halls and houses. An additional 48 male students live in two houses owned by national fraternities and located on university property. There are 571 non-student employees working on campus as members of the faculty and staff.

DPS Authority

The administrative office responsible for security is the DPS (DPS). The department includes an assistant vice president/director, seven full-time officers, one part-time officer, three full-time and three part-time dispatchers, and 40 student workers who perform dispatch and ticket writing duties. An extensive background check occurs before an officer is hired. Officers must successfully complete a nine-month probation period, and it is preferred that officers comply with Pennsylvania's Training Act 235 and 120, and participate in ongoing in-service training. The DPS is located at the Degenstein Campus Center. Officers provide patrol coverage 24 hours a day on foot, bicycle and motor vehicle. The DPS also uses closed circuit television cameras to monitor common areas and major thoroughfares on campus. Currently there are multiple cameras installed and located at TRAX, Degenstein Campus Center, Seibert Hall, Facilities Management, Freshman Parking Lot, West Hall, Admissions Office, and the Garret Sports Complex. These cameras monitor the campus exterior areas around these buildings. In addition to exterior phones located at campus buildings there are blue light emergency phones located in the Admissions, Sassafras, St. Pius, and Library parking lots. There is also a blue light phone located at the Sassafras Rugby field. These phones directly report to the DPS for assistance.

Susquehanna University public safety officers are not sworn officials and are unarmed. The DPS works closely with the Selinsgrove Borough Police Department and the Pennsylvania State Police. All agencies operate on the same emergency radio frequencies and cooperate during joint investigations. All prosecutions are secured through the Selinsgrove Borough Police Department.

Reporting Crime

To report a crime, students, faculty, staff, and members of the community may call the DPS at 570-372-4444, the Selinsgrove Borough Police via 911 (9-911 campus phone) or 570-374-8655 or the Pennsylvania State Police via 911 (9-911 campus phone) or 570-374-8145.

As defined by the FBI Uniform Crime Report, all Part I crimes and Part II crimes are reported to state and local police. All crimes reported to the DPS are included in the annual report. Also, the DPS maintains a daily log book containing all reports to Public Safety regarding incidents of crime. This log book is located in the office of the DPS.

Facility Access

Campus facilities are open to students, employees and guests during normal business hours. Individuals not having legitimate business on campus may be arrested as trespassers and are subject to the penalties provided by the Pennsylvania Crimes Code. Trespass notices are posted on entrance and exit doors of all buildings. The DPS may be contacted regarding these matters.

Confidential Reporting

Criminal incidents may also be reported to other officials on campus such as the vice president for student life & dean of students, director of residence life & civic engagement, director of the Health Center, director of the Counseling Center, director of human resources, faculty advisors, director of the Center for Diversity & Social Justice and athletic department coaches and directors. Information on these officials can be found within the campus directories. Anonymous reports of criminal incidents can be forwarded to the assistant vice president for student life and director of public safety via e-mail at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/PublicSafety.asp or via phone by leaving a message at (570) 372-4136. A Campus Security Authority report may be filed confidentially with the assistant vice president for student life & director of public safety. A copy of the report may be found at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/PublicSafety.asp.

Alcohol and Drugs

We expect all persons to comply with the law with regard to the possession and use of alcoholic beverages. The sale of alcoholic beverages is not permitted. Persons of legal age may consume alcohol on campus, but only in locations specified by the university. The Student Handbook contains the complete policy statement related to the use of alcoholic beverages on campus. The Student Handbook may be found online at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/DivStudentLife.asp.

All state laws must be observed with regard to the possession, use, or sale of illegal drugs. The university cooperates fully with state and local law enforcement agencies in the investigation of the possession, use or sale of illegal drugs. The Student Handbook contains the complete policy. Incidents involving violations of the law or university policy will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct.

Sex Offenders

The Campus Sex Crimes Prevention Act provides for the tracking of convicted sex offenders. It requires sex offenders, already required to register in a state, to provide notice of each institution of higher education in that state at which that person is employed, carries on a vocation, or is a student. Persons seeking to obtain sex offender registration information may contact the Selinsgrove Police Department at (570) 374-8655, the Pennsylvania State Police at www.psp.state.pa.us, www.pameganslaw.state.pa.us, or the assistant vice president for student life and director of public safety at (570) 372-4136.

If it is known to us that a member of the university community has a criminal record, any necessary decisions are dependent on the particular circumstances and the nature of the offense.

Sexual Assault

Being a crime victim is a traumatic experience. When a crime happens to you, report it as soon as possible by calling any of the below numbers. Any member of the Susquehanna community who believes that he/she has been sexually assaulted is encouraged to seek medical attention and seek any of the below resources:

- seek medical attention and use the resources available
- Counseling Center 570-372-4751 or 570-374-9164 (On-call 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. & weekends),
- Susquehanna Valley Women In Transition 570- 374-7773, 800-850-7948
- Public safety 570-372-4444
- vice president for student life & dean of students 570-372-4135
- residence life 570-372-4133
- Health Center 570-372-4385 or 570- 374-9164 (On-call 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. & weekends)
- Selinsgrove Police (911) or 570- 374-8655
- Pennsylvania State Police 570-374-8145

- file criminal charges under the law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

- institute formal disciplinary complaint (refer to Student Handbook)

- seek mediation (refer to Student Handbook)

In addition, the Sexual Violence and SU brochure is distributed to all incoming freshmen and is available in the Department of Residence Life, DPS, and in the Health Center. Victims, witnesses or persons with relevant information may report alleged crimes or incidents to public safety confidentially through the aforementioned resources or any university official. The purpose of such report is to comply with a wish to keep a matter confidential as appropriate, while taking steps to insure the future safety of the victim, persons involved, and/or the community in general.

The DPS presents the Sexual Harassment, Assault and Rape Prevention (SHARP) program each semester. This program is a self-defense course that provides tools to students, faculty, and staff to help prevent and defend against a sexual assault. Interested community members may contact the assistant vice president for student life & director of public safety.

The Counseling Center has developed the Sexual Assault Advocate program that consists of a group of Susquehanna University faculty and staff members who are trained to provide support to university community members who have been targets of sexual violence. Additionally, the role of the advocate is to enhance the effectiveness and accessibility of existing support systems. The Counseling Center, Health Center and the DPS may be contacted for more information.

Anyone who may have been the victim of a sexual assault should go to a safe location as soon as possible after the event and seek medical attention if necessary. Any of the above agencies can be contacted to assist with medical, investigative, counseling or student conduct processes.

Also, the vice president for student life and dean of students, 570-372-4135, or the assistant vice president for student life & director of public safety, 570-372-4136, may be contacted during normal business hours and can be reached by contacting public safety after hours at 570-372-4444. All victims of sexual assault are entitled to choose any or all of the above agencies to report a sexual assault. Victims have the option to pursue criminal charges against any alleged suspect and if the suspect is a student, the victim may opt to press criminal and student conduct charges. The victim may choose to press SU student conduct charges only and to not pursue criminal charges through outside law enforcement agencies. Any professional staff, faculty member or athletics staff may also assist getting help for the victim of sexual assault.

Victims of sexual assault are advised that any evidence at the scene of the crime is important to a successful prosecution or student conduct process. Victims should take reasonable measures to maintain evidence, such as, bodily fluids, property, items handled by suspect etc. This evidence could be found at the location of the assault and/or on the victim. Victims of sexual assault should not place themselves in any danger so to protect such evidence.

Anyone in need of counseling services, on or off campus, as a result of being a victim of a sexual assault can contact the SU Counseling Center at 570-372-4751 for service or referral. The SU Counseling Center may be reached at 570-374-9164 from 5 p.m. to 8 a.m. and on weekends. Susquehanna Valley Women in Transition may also be contacted to refer for off-campus counseling, (800-850-7948). Students who are the victim of a sexual assault may have their academic and/or living arrangements adjusted if necessary. If the student requests, the university will make reasonable accommodations, such as changing residence hall rooms, buildings or allowing students to commute to class. The university will also assist with academic issues, such as adjusting some assignments or allowing the students to study from home. These adjustments may vary based on individual circumstances.

Students who are victims of sexual assault may file charges with the assistant director of residence life for student conduct at 570-372-4517. Incidents of reported sexual assaults will go before a University Conduct Board comprised of students, faculty and staff members. During the University Conduct Board hearing the accuser and the accused are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during the disciplinary proceedings. Both the accuser and the accused will be informed of the outcome of the hearing of a sexual assault case. If a student is found to be responsible for committing a sexual assault that student may receive sanctions to include but are not limited to expulsion or suspension from the university, probation or a warning. This could be in addition to criminal sanctions if the victim chooses to pursue charges through the outside law enforcement agencies previously mentioned.

Maintenance of Facilities

In the maintenance of campus facilities, including landscaping, groundskeeping and outdoor lighting, university personnel continually monitor the campus for irregularities and needed repairs. Security is a major factor in all landscape and lighting designs. Periodic input is sought from outside agencies as an additional guide in evaluating our needs.

Timely Warnings and Emergency Notifications, and Shelter-in-Place

The DPS will make every reasonable effort to issue a timely warning to the campus community upon confirmation of a criminal act required by law, significant emergency or dangerous situation involving an immediate threat to the health or safety of students or employees occurring on the campus. The timely warning will be made without delay, unless the notification will, in the professional judgment of responsible authorities, compromise efforts to assist victims or to contain, respond to, or otherwise mitigate the emergency.

While each emergency situation is different, the DPS ranking on duty officer has the authority to activate immediate notification media. When time allows, the direction to activate notification systems may be from the assistant vice president for student life & director of public safety, The vice president for student life & dean of students, provost, executive vice president for administration and planning, or the president.

The DPS may communicate with the campus community in a variety of ways during an emergency and immediately afterwards.

- Short Message Service (SMS) Alerts: In the event of a scenario, as described above, the DPS will alert the community about the incident, give instructions, and advise that the emergency is over via SMS or text messages to cell phones and e-mail alerts to computers.

To subscribe to this service you must have a Susquehanna University e-mail account and sign up at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/PublicSafety.asp. While this service is voluntary, the DPS is requiring new employees and students to subscribe when acquiring a parking permit.

- Public Address/Warning Sirens: If necessary, the DPS may activate this system as it is designed to be quite loud and distinct and should be easily heard by those who are outdoors on campus. The following instructions may be found at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/PublicSafety.asp:
 1. Hi-Lo siren (180 seconds)
 2. Hi-Lo siren (5 seconds) followed by public address announcement
 3. Hi-Lo siren (5 seconds) followed by the following pre-recorded message, A tornado warning is in effect! Seek shelter now! Tune to your local TV station for further information. Seek shelter now! Repeat
 4. Hi-Lo siren (5 seconds) followed by the following pre-recorded message, Chemical Release. Stay inside buildings and close windows and doors unless advised by authorities to evacuate area. Repeat.
 5. Hi-Lo siren (5 seconds) followed by the following pre-recorded message, There is a person with a weapon on campus. Seek shelter now. Repeat twice.
 6. Wail siren (5 seconds) followed by the following pre-recorded message, All clear. The emergency is over. Repeat twice.
 7. Whoop siren (5 seconds) followed by the following pre-recorded message, This is a test of the Susquehanna University emergency notification system. Repeat.

The following procedures are posted on campus and throughout residence halls:

Shelter-in-Place

If you hear the Public Address/Warning Siren, protect yourself!

If the siren is due to severe weather or tornado warning:

- If you are outside, seek cover in the closest building
- Stay in your classroom, room, or office if it is in the interior of the building
OR go to an interior hallway of the building
OR go to the lowest level possible
OR in a house or apartment, go to the center of the house or the bathroom
- Stay away from windows, glass doors, and glass walls
- Monitor the Web and your e-mail for updates and instructions
- Call 911 or the DPS (x4444) immediately if you have any information about damage or injuries
- Stay in your area until you receive the “all clear” message from the Public Address/Warning Siren or a message from a university official or emergency worker.

If the siren is due to an intruder: (or if an intruder has been observed)

- Go to the closest classroom, room, or office and stay there
- Shut the door and lock it, if possible
AND if possible, place a desk or chair in front of the door
AND if possible, wedge a shoe or belt under the door to prevent it from opening
- Turn off the lights
- Keep yourself and others in the room as quiet as possible
AND switch cell phones to vibrate AND mute all computers, projectors, CD players, and other machines
- Stay away from windows, glass doors
- Monitor the Web and your e-mail for updates and instructions
- Call 911 or Public Safety (x4444) immediately if you have any information about the intruder or injuries
- Stay in your area until you receive the “all clear” message from the Emergency Alert Siren or a college official or emergency worker.

Please remember:

- This system is not foolproof and each person has to use common sense and assist each other in the event of an emergency.
- The siren and voice cannot penetrate everywhere under every condition. We still have to take care of one another as we always do. Simply passing along the message to a fellow student, staff, or faculty member can help out the situation immeasurably.
- We will also use e-mail, voice mail, SMS alerts and other modes of communication to get information out to you as quickly as possible.
- Crime Alerts: The DPS will post crime alerts at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/PublicSafety.asp. This site will list important information about recent crime trends and instructions on how to protect yourself if necessary.
- E-Newsletter: This correspondence will be sent via email to those with an active SU email account and will alert the community to particular scenarios on campus and is used to update students, faculty, and staff about situations involving safety.
- WQSU AM Radio Station 88.9: This media is used to notify the campus and neighboring communities regarding emergencies on campus.
- The Crusader: Is a weekly student newspaper printing relevant information regarding campus safety and programs.

- The Daily Item: The local daily newspaper that may be used to disseminate updates on emergency situations happening on campus to the larger community.

The DPS will also contact local police, fire, and/or emergency managers of any situation involving the activation of a timely warning or notification. The Office of University Communications will liaison with local media to ensure that the larger community is kept well informed.

Susquehanna University will test the emergency response and evacuation procedures on, at least, an annual basis. These tests will be announced and publicized in the SU E-Newsletter.

Evacuation procedures may be found in the Susquehanna University Annual Fire Safety Report at www.susqu.edu/studentlife/PublicSafety.asp.

Residence Halls

Campus housing at Susquehanna includes 24 residence halls with occupancy of 16 to 280 students and 13 houses with occupancy of 4 to 15 students. The houses are used by upperclass students involved in special projects, sororities and fraternities. Freshmen housing includes four buildings which are co-ed by wing, floor or room to room. Upperclass housing is co-ed by wing, floor or suite. Students must receive permission to live off campus. The university does not have housing for married students or students with other family members.

Upperclass returning students are given the opportunity to select their roommates. Room selection occurs in the spring for the following school year and priority for selection is established by a lottery system. New freshmen and transfer students are assigned housing based on the date they pay their admissions deposit. Mutual requests for specific roommates are honored whenever possible. Roommate matching is based on stated needs and/or interests (e.g. smoker/non-smoker, sleeping habits, etc.).

Students may request a change in roommates after participating in a mediation process through the Department of Residence Life. Such requests are honored if it is appropriate and possible within the limits of available space.

To secure entrances to residence facilities, exterior doors are locked 24 hours a day except for designated entrances to three halls that also have academic facilities. These entrances are locked at 11 p.m. by the DPS. Public safety officers check exterior doors during their tours of campus. Students are issued both an outside door key and a room key. Twenty-one residence facilities now have keyless entry control systems that are locked 24 hours a day, with the exception of three buildings that have academic facilities.

Standard locking mechanisms are used to secure doors and windows in student rooms. Residents are urged to use these safety features.

Live-in residence hall staff includes the associate director of residence life for operations, assistant director for community development, and assistant director of residence life for student conduct, eleven head residents, and 54 resident assistants. The director of residence life and civic engagement lives on campus in a university-owned home. In addition, there are four master's apartments occupied by faculty/staff.

The residence life staff receives basic security training in emergency procedures and crime prevention. This training is provided prior to the start of the school year, and in-service training programs are conducted throughout the school year. In addition, public safety officers are on duty 24 hours a day and make routine vehicle and foot patrols of the campus and residence facilities.

Hall meetings are held at the beginning of each semester in every hall to inform residents about housing security and enforcement procedures. In addition, specific programs are held throughout the school year (e.g. fire safety, date rape, staying safe etc.). The DPS will also conduct similar trainings in conjunction with residence life.

Students who receive permission to remain on campus during low occupancy periods such as holidays and vacations (e.g. international students, intercollegiate teams etc.) stay in their current rooms. All doors are locked 24 hours a day. A resident assistant is assigned, whenever possible, to stay in residence halls occupied during these periods. In addition, the DPS is notified of the names and locations of such students.

All guests in residence halls must have a student host and are subject to University regulations. The host is responsible for the actions of and/or any damages caused by his/her guests. Except for guests sponsored by the University, overnight guests are permitted two nights in a 14-day period. If a roommate objects to the presence of an overnight guest, that guest may not spend the night. Overnight visitors must obtain a temporary pass from the DPS or sponsoring department.

Missing Person Policy

The purpose of this policy is to establish a framework for cooperation among members of the university community aimed at locating and assisting students who are reported missing. A student shall be deemed missing when he or she is absent from the university for more than 24 hours without any known reason. All reports of missing students shall be directed to the DPS, (570-372-4444), which shall investigate each report and make a determination whether the student is missing in accordance with this policy. All students shall have the opportunity to identify an individual to be contacted by the university in case a student is determined to be missing. If a missing student is under 18 years of age, the DPS will notify the parent or guardian of the missing student not later than 24 hours after the determination by the DPS that the student is missing. The DPS will also notify the Selinsgrove Borough Police Department not later than 24 hours after it determines that the student is missing.

Missing Person Procedure

Any report of a missing student, from whatever source, should immediately be directed to the DPS.

When a student is reported missing, the DPS shall:

Initiate an investigation to determine the validity of the missing person report.

- Contact the assistant vice president for student life & director of public safety.
- Contact the on-call Office of Residence Life & Civic Engagement staff.

- Contact the vice president for student life & dean of students.
- Make a determination as to the status of the missing student.
- Notify the individual identified by the missing student as the emergency contact within 24 hours of making the determination that the student is missing.
- If the missing student is under the age of 18, notify the student’s custodial parent or guardian as contained in the records of the university within 24 hours of the determination that the student is missing.
- Notify the Selinsgrove Borough Police Department within 24 hours after determining that the student is missing. This notification will be made even if the missing student has not registered an emergency contact person.
- Once the missing student is located, all previously notified individuals will be updated as appropriate.
- Students will be given the opportunity to register a confidential contact person to be notified in the case that the student is determined to be missing through the Office of Student Life.
- Only authorized campus officials and law enforcement officers in furtherance of a missing person investigation may have access to student contact information.

Weapons

Firearms and other weapons are prohibited on campus. Only sworn law enforcement officials and others with permission of the assistant vice president for student life & director of public safety are permitted to be in possession of firearms on campus.

If you have questions or concerns about any of the policies or procedures stated above, please feel free to call the assistant vice president for student life & director of public safety (570-372-4136) or the vice president for student life & dean of students (570-372-4135).
